The New Theory Project in the Chulachomklao Royal Military Academy

The Chulachomklao Royal Military Academy, Nakhon Nayok Province, apart from being a military school which produces military officers who serve our country, not many people know that the school also acts as a center that gathers concepts on different agricultural theories of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej. The center welcomes cadets and interested people to gain agricultural knowledge such as the Rice Cultivation in Vacant Land Project or the integrated farming.

The New Theory Project in the Chulachomklao Royal Military Academy area is another project that adjusts the New Theory plot to fit the area of 15 rai (6 acres) by dividing 9 rai (3.6 acres) for rice plot and another 6 rai (0.24 acres) for other activities such as fish pond, backyard garden, fruit plot or multi-purpose building. The rest is the residential area for farmers who participated in the project. The number of cadets took turns to visit the project to gain some knowledge that was occasionally applied in the real situation.
